The historical documentation of the Australia Japan Business Co-operation Committee (AJBCC) is held in the Noel Butlin Archive at the Australian National University (ANU), Canberra. Researchers will need to seek approval before being able to access more sensitive materials. Unless attributed the photographs are from the resources of the AJBCC and JABCC.

The quality of the archived material reflects the commitment to the furtherance of the bilateral relationship by past Presidents, Executive Committees and the AJBCC membership and of their JABCC counterparts. The foresight and courage of those bureaucrats and politicians of the mid-fifties whom envisaged and negotiated the Australia-Japan Agreement on Commerce of 1957 have been maintained over subsequent decades by the endeavors of substantial numbers of public officials. Ambassadors, Embassy staff, desk officers from the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Austrade and other Ministries, and their Japanese counterparts. They are thanked for their courtesies to this and previous secretariats in our mutual quest to enhance the bilateral relationship.

Given the almost negligible command of Nihongo held by the present and past AJBCC secretariats, the patience and cooperation of the counterpart JABCC secretariats have been greatly appreciated.

The cooperation of and collaboration with the Australia Japan Research Centre (AJRC) at the ANU and other prominent academics; the Australia Japan Foundation (AJF); and the Australian New Zealand Chamber of Commerce in Japan (ANZCCJ) has been a feature of the decades.

The assistance of present colleagues and past employees of the Australia Chamber of Commerce and Industry (ACCI), and its predecessor organisations, that has permitted this and past secretariats to execute their responsibilities with utmost professionalism is acknowledged with pleasure. It is regretted if the following might not be a complete list of the key AJBCC secretariat alumni:

R W C (Bob) Anderson (Deceased)

J C (Judy) Bunfield

J O (John) Garrety

W J (Bill) Henderson

M (Malcolm) Overland

Marcela Bernal de Castro, Program Administrator and Executive Assistant (AJBCC) and Monica Mosmondor, Graphic Designer, Webmaster and Print Producer (ACCI) are thanked for their enthusiasm and skills that have been indispensable for realizing this publication.

The errors and failings are mine alone.
